

Index

- Altruism, 8–11, 17–19, 23–27, 30, 48–49, 86–87, 133–134 demands of, 8–11, 17–19, 23–27
no reason can be given for, 24–26
cannot be upheld consistently, 30, 48–49, 86–87
Islamic terrorists as religious altruists, 133–134
See also Religion; Social subjectivism
- Aristotle, 15
- Augustine, Saint, 4–5, 14, 18
- Bin Laden, Osama, 20
- Broad, C. D., 37
- Buckley, William F., 9–10
- Bush, George Jr., 9
- Bush, George Sr., 9
- Capitalism (laissez-faire), 119–128, 131–132, 138
and individual rights, 119–128, 131–132
and private property, 119–121
only function of government under, 121–122
and objective law, 121–123
as the system of justice, 123
as the only moral social system, 123–128, 131–132
and the poor, disabled, and helpless, 123–127
and egoism, 126–128, 131–132
- Causality, law of, 1, 14–15, 82–83
and morality, 1, 82–83
- Central purpose, 67–69, 76
need of, 67–69, 76
qualifications of, 68–69
See also Productive work; Productivity
- Choice to live, 47–57, 86–87, 124, 129–130 establishes one's life as one's ultimate goal, 47–50, 129–130 makes one's pursuit of values possible and necessary, 47–57
as the most basic choice, 47–48
and integrity, 86–87
and the moral responsibility to support oneself, 124
- Civilized/moral society, 103–128, 131, 138
precondition of, 117, 131
basic legal principle of, 117–119
and private property, 119–121
and retaliatory force, 121–122
See also Rights; Capitalism; Objective law
- Clinton, Bill, 9–10
- Damer, T. Edward, 37–38
- Descartes, René, 5
- Egoism, 50–51, 129
principle of, 50, 126–129, 131–138
as implied by the nature of value, 50
as distinguished from hedonism and personal subjectivism, 50–51
and the helpless, 126–127

- Egoism (continued)
 and capitalism, 126–128, 131–132
 rational egoism as the only morality that is actually moral, 131–138
- Emergency situations, 135–138
See also Moral impasses
- Emotions, 57–62, 87
 nature and source of, 57–62
 positive vs. negative, 59–60
 and spiritual health, 59–62
 and reason, 59–62
 should not be ignored or repressed, 61
 as not our means of knowledge, 61–62
 and integrity, 87
- Ends/goals, 35–41, 44–52, 65
 arbitrary/subjective, 35–40
 and means, 35–40, 45–46 ultimate end/goal, 36–37, 41, 46
 as thought not to be rationally justifiable, 36–41
 rational justification of, 44–52
 no such thing as a “neutral” goal or
 value, 65
See also Is-ought gap; Values; Purpose
- Extrospection, 89
- Faith, 1, 3, 13–23, 40, 99–100, 130
 and religion, 3, 13–16, 19–23
 and secular subjectivism, 16–19, 40
 and humility, 99–100
- Freedom (from physical force), as the basic social requirement of human life, 103–128, 131–133
See also Physical force; Rights;
 Capitalism; Objective law
- Free will, 43–44, 47–50, 53, 55–56, 60–61, 63, 67, 94, 99–100
 and reason, 55–56
 and justice, 94
 vs. humility, 99–100
 and pride, 100
- Goals: See Ends
- God, 1, 3–7, 9, 12–14, 16, 18–19, 22–23, 26, 31, 40, 129–133
 obedience to, 3–7, 9, 18–19, 22–23, 26, 31, 133
 belief in, 12–14, 16, 18–19, 22–23, 26, 31, 133
 as considered the only source of an absolute morality, 12–13, 31, 40
 no evidence for, 13–14, 31, 129
 and “miracles,” 16
 no need for, 129–132
See also Religion; “Super-nature”
- Goering, Hermann, 16–17
- Good and evil: See Virtue; Vice
- Government, 117, 120, 122, 127–128, 131 only function of government in a capitalist society, 121–122, 127–128
 and retaliatory force in a capitalist society, 121–122, 131
 only proper, moral purpose of,
 127–128, 131
See also Physical force; Rights;
 Objective law
- Happiness, 1, 3, 22–29, 34, 41, 44, 49–62, 65–71, 73–101
 essential means to, 1
 as retarded by religion, 22–23, 27, 41
 as retarded by social subjectivism, 22, 24–27, 41
 as retarded by personal subjectivism, 22, 27–29, 41
 irrationality as incompatible with, 28
 as the moral purpose of one’s life, 50–52, 68, 98
 requirements of, 1, 34, 44, 49–62, 65–71, 73–101
 vs. dishonesty, 81–82
See also Self-esteem; Central purpose;
 Virtue
- Harris, Eric, 12, 41
- Hedonism, 12, 23, 27–29, 50–51
 as distinguished from egoism, 50–51
See also Personal subjectivism
- Heschel, Abraham, 4
- Hitler, Adolf, 16–18, 40–41
- Honesty, 76–85, 87–89, 130, 136
 vs. dishonesty, 77–83, 130
 and the purpose of morality, 83–84
 and the full context of one’s knowledge, 84–85
 and integrity, 87–89
 and emergency situations, 136

- Hume, David, 37–41
- Humility, 99–100
- Identity, law of, 14–15, 82–83
and morality, 82–83
- Independence, 76, 89–94, 130
independent thinking vs. second-handedness, 90–94, 130 independent thinking vs. personal subjectivism, 91
independent thinking and the value of experts, 91–93
- Individual rights, principle of: See Rights, the right to life
- Integrity, 31, 76, 85–89, 130, 136
as loyalty to rational convictions and selfish values, 85–89 and the choice to live, 86–87
and truth, 86–89
vs. hypocrisy, 86–89, 130
and justice, 87
and honesty, 87–89
and emotions, 87, 89
requires introspection and extrospection, 87–89
and emergency situations, 136
- Introspection, 87–89
- Is-ought gap/dichotomy/problem, 36–41, 43, 46, 49–50, 129–130
See also Subjectivism
- “Just believing”: See Faith
- Justice, 76, 87, 94–97, 123, 130, 133–134, 136
and integrity, 87
vs. injustice, 87, 130
and good relationships, 94–97
and the basic principle of selfish human interaction, 94–97 rational vs. irrational judgment of people, 94–97 judging moral character and other qualities, 95–97
vs. subjectivism and second-handedness, 95 means and standards of judging people objectively, 94–97
as primarily about recognizing and rewarding the good, 97
capitalism as the system of, 123
and the war against terrorists, 133–134
and emergency situations, 136
- Kaiser, Walter C., 4, 6
- Kant, Immanuel, 7
- Keyes, Alan, 9–10
- Life, 1, 45–57, 60–62, 65–71, 73–101, 103–138
and self-generated, goal-directed action, 45, 63
or death as the only fundamental alternative, 45–47
as self-sustaining and self-generated action, 46, 113 makes values possible and necessary, 46–49
as the ultimate end/goal/value, 46–53, 70, 86–87, 129–130
as the standard of value, 47–52, 56, 68, 86 man’s life as the standard of moral value, 47–48, 52–53, 73, 81, 86–87, 113, 127, 129, 134–135 as an attribute of the individual, 49, 129
requirements of, 1, 46–57, 60–62, 65–71, 73–101, 103–138 human life as complex and long-term, 51–52, 73–74, 100–101, 130
a human life as a life guided by the judgment of one’s own mind, 104–119 basic social requirement of human life, 107 right to life as the fundamental right, 113–116
- Locke, Edwin A., 76
- Logic, 1, 13, 15, 36–41, 48, 61–62, 74–75, 90–93, 97, 129–130 basic law of, 15
and the is-ought problem, 36–41, 48, 129–130
and emotions, 61–62
virtue as a matter of, 74–75
and independent thinking, 90–93
and justice, 97
and objective law, 123

- Logic (continued)
See also Nature, basic laws of; Reason;
 Rational thinking; Rationality
- Meaningful life: See Purpose
- Means of survival: See Life, requirements of
- Meslier, Jean, 21
- Mill, John Stuart, 23
- “Miracles,” 14, 16
- Moral agnosticism, 96–97
- Moral certainty, 12, 40–41, 133–134
 need of, 12, 40–41, 133–134
 and the war against terrorists, 133–134
See also Morality; Is-ought Gap;
 Values, standard of moral value
- Moral impasses, 137–138
- Morality/ethics, 1, 3–13, 17–24, 27, 31, 34, 36, 40, 43–71, 73–101, 103–138
 religion and subjectivism’s debate over, 3, 7, 31, 40, 129
 according to religion, 3–9, 11–13, 18–23, 27, 31, 40, 129
 according to social subjectivism, 7–11, 17–19, 21, 23–24, 27, 129
 according to personal subjectivism, 7, 11–12, 19, 27, 129
 need of morality, 1, 12–13, 34, 43–52
 need of a non-sacrificial morality, 27, 30–31, 44
 need of objective foundation for, 31, 36, 44
 and free will, 43–44, 47–48, 55–56
 as a matter of the factual requirements of human life and happiness, 1, 43–71, 73–101, 103–138
 as a matter of being rational, 55–57, 73–101, 129–130, 135–138,
 as chosen and objective, 47–49, 129–130
 purpose of, 47–52, 83–84
 the moral ideal, 69
 and context, 84–85
 and the law of identity, 82–83
 and the law of causality, 1, 82–83, 130
 and the law of non-contradiction, 74–75, 82–83
 and the principle of non-sacrifice, 74–75, 98, 101, 130, 134
 as a matter of purposeful principles and contextual absolutes, 84–85
See also Altruism; Hedonism; Egoism; Values; Virtues
- Moral perfection, 98–100
See also Pride
- Mortimer, Robert C., 5–6
- Nature, basic laws of, 14, 82–83, 130
 and morality, 82–83, 130
- Non-contradiction, law of, 15, 74–75, 82–83, 91, 101, 130
 and morality, 74–75, 82–83
See also Truth
- Non-sacrifice, principle of, 74–75, 98, 101, 130, 134–138
See also Egoism; Virtue
- Objective law, 117–123, 127–128
 capitalism as the system of, 121–123
 vs. arbitrary, subjective claims, 122–123
 objective vs. subjective laws, 127–128
 “Objective,” meaning of, 13
- Objectivism: See Rand, Ayn
- Parasitism, 55–56, 76, 118–119, 124
 vs. productive work, 55, 76
 vs. rational thinking, 56
 vs. rights, 118–119
 vs. capitalism, 124
- Personal subjectivism, 7, 11–12, 19, 22, 27–30, 44, 49–51, 95, 111–112
 truth according to, 7, 11, 27
 morality according to, 7, 11–12, 19, 27, 44, 50–51
 sacrifice, suffering, and death caused
 by, 22
 so-called “selfishness” of, 11, 27–30 spiritual conflict and destruction caused
 by, 22, 27–29
 as distinguished from egoism, 50–51
 vs. independent thinking, 91
 vs. justice, 95
 and physical force, 111–112
See also Subjectivism; Hedonism
- Physical force, 26–27, 103–128, 131 as the only way to prevent people from acting on their judgment, 103–128, 131

- prevents people from living fully as human beings, 104–128
- degrees and kinds of, 104–106, 110–111
- moral premises underlying instances of, 111–112
- as the only means of violating rights, 117
- as barred from social relationships in a civilized society, 117–118
- initiatory force as distinguished from retaliatory force, 117
- initiatory physical force as factually immoral and properly illegal, 117–119, 131
- and “public” property, 120
- retaliatory force as properly left to the government whenever possible, 121–122, 131
- See also* Rights; Civilized society; Capitalism; Objective law; Government
- Pojman, Louis P., 8
- Powell, Colon, 9–11
- Pride, 76, 97–100, 130
- and moral perfection, 98–99
- and self-esteem, 98–100
- vs. self deception and refusal to stand corrected, 99
- requires and entails all the moral virtues, 99
- vs. humility, 99–100, 130
- and free will, 100
- Productive work, 54–56, 68, 75–76
- as essential to human life, 54–56, 68, 75–76
- vs. parasitism, 55, 76
- depends on reason, 55–56, 75
- spiritual value of, 68, 76
- See also* Central purpose; Productivity
- Productivity/productiveness, 56, 75–76, 130
- vs. parasitism, 76, 130
- See also* Central purpose; Productive work
- Private vs. “public” property, 119–121
- See also* Rights; Capitalism; Objective law
- Protagoras, 7
- Purpose, 63–71, 129–130
- as a basic human value, 63–71, 130
- and the meaning of one’s life, 63–69, 129
- rational purpose, 63–67, 69
- and education, 63–64
- and career, 63–65, 67–68
- and hobbies, 63, 67
- and romantic love, 63, 66–67, 70–71
- and parenting, 63, 66–67
- and the moral ideal, 69
- See also* Central purpose
- Rand, Ayn, 44–50, 55, 56, 67, 70, 71, 73, 80, 90, 96–98, 110, 112–113, 116–119, 121–122, 127–128, 133–136
- Rational thinking, 15, 55–57, 59–61, 70, 74–75, 103, 130
- basic principle of, 15
- as an act of choice, 55–56
- as the most basic requirement of human life, 55–57, 70, 74–75, 103, 130
- vs. parasitism, 56
- purpose of, 56, 74–75
- and emotions, 59–61
- See also* Logic; Reason; Free will; Virtue; Rationality; Independence
- Rationality, 75–101, 130, 136
- vs. irrationality, 130
- as the primary moral virtue, 75–76, 130
- virtues derivative of, 75–101, 130
- and emergency situations, 136
- See also* Logic; Reason; Rational thinking; Virtue
- Reaffirmation through denial, 15
- Reason, 1, 33–34, 36–38, 40–41, 55–62, 70–71, 73–101, 130
- and the identification of facts, 33–34, 55–56
- and the is-ought problem, 36–38, 40–41
- and free will, 55–56
- as man’s basic means of survival, 55–57, 61–62, 73, 86–87
- as man’s means of knowledge, 61–62, 86, 98,

- Subjectivism, 3, 7, 16–23, 28, 31, 33, 37–41, 44, 86, 111–112, 129
and faith, 16–19, 40
religion as a form of, 16, 19–22, 44, 129
cannot be upheld consistently, 86
and physical force, 111–112
See also Religion; Social subjectivism;
Personal subjectivism
- “Super-nature”/“supernatural,” 13–14, 16, 44, 133
See also God; Religion
- Terrorists, war against, 133–134
- Tertullian, 16
- Truth/validity, 3, 6–8, 11, 13–15, 21, 27, 61–62, 85–89, 90–91, 98–99, 129, 130
according to religion, 3, 6, 13, 21, 90–91
according to social subjectivism, 7–8, 90–91
according to personal subjectivism, 7, 11, 27, 91
and the basic laws of nature and logic, 14–15
and emotional harmony, 61–62
and reason, 61–62, 129
as a matter of evidence and the law of non-contradiction, 74–75, 90–91, 130
and integrity, 85–89
and independent thinking, 90–91
and pride, 98–99
- Utilitarianism, 23
- Values, 1, 13, 31, 36, 38, 40–41, 43–50, 53–71, 73–76, 80–83, 86, 88, 92, 98,
101, 113, 118–119, 127, 129, 130, 135–138
nature of, 43–50, 73–76, 80–83
human values as chosen, 43–44, 47–49
as made possible and necessary by life, 46–48
as certain kinds of facts, 46, 80–83
value judgments, 38, 46, 57, 101
ultimate value, 46–50, 53, 70, 86, 88, 113 standard of value, 13, 31, 40–41, 43–44, 47, 49–50, 56, 68, 86, 129
standard of moral value, 36, 38, 47–48, 52–53, 73, 81, 86, 92, 98, 113, 127, 129, 134–135
human values as created/produced, 54–55, 76, 118–119
basic human values, 53–71, 73, 86, 130
and emotions, 57–62
no such thing as a “neutral” goal or
value, 65
hierarchy of, 67–69, 74–75, 135–138
legitimate vs. illegitimate values, 80–82 dishonesty cannot lead to values, 81–83
See also Ends; Productive work;
Reason; Purpose; Self-esteem; Virtue
- Vice, 73, 100, 130
- Virtue, 73–101, 130
general nature of, 73–76, 130
as a matter of logic, 74–75
and non-contradiction, 74–75
and non-sacrifice, 74–75
and the purpose of morality, 83–84
all (rational) virtues imply and entail
each other, 87–88, 99
See also Rationality; Productivity;
Honesty; Integrity; Independence;
Justice; Pride
- Vogel, Stewart, 12–13
- Volition: See Free will
- Voltaire, 21
- Wilson, James Q., 37